

The Children Are Crying

Written by Earl Taylor

---

chorus: My heart it is aching, you should be ashamed,
The children are crying and calling your name.

- 1. Since you went away dear, I've felt so all alone,
You left me the children but you've broken up our home,
But you couldn't stop your cheating or running around,
Now my friends they are talking 'bout how you let them down.
- 2. Oh mommy, oh daddy I think that it's a shame,
I know you both love me but I don't know who's to blame,
But you couldn't stop your cheating or running around,
Now my friends they are talking 'bout how you let them down.
